The council decided to outsource funding to an outside of state education company (GBRI, 1732 1st Ave 20278 New York, NY 10128) to train Rhode Island educators on energy issues. A concern to find the invitation for $25 extended to be part of the training. It was more of a shock one day later to receive an invitation with a raise to $75 offered for training to Rhode Island educators. How is it possible In the state of Rhode Island, full of energy educators in our universities and in our businesses, instead chose an out-of-state company to administer and train our citizens for the mission of energy independence for our beautiful small state? Please respond with an explanation for the board's decision to outsource a program to another state; outsource funding, in a state rich in educators and experts in energy improvement and education.
